

Cocaine Specific

The purpose of this group is to provide an educational overview of historical and current information regarding cocaine. It covers the medical aspect and the effects of both the short- and long-term use of this drug. It covers the legal history and current consequences of use. This group also gives the participant a view of treatment and recovery options.

Before cocaine becomes a problem in your life, or if you have already begun to experience the consequences of cocaine use, this course will provide a foundation to begin to understand what cocaine use does to your body, your mind, and your spirit, and how all will eventually deteriorate with continued use. Whether you feel you are a recreational user or more frequent user, this course will provide you with the knowledge to make healthy choices as well as options for alternative coping mechanisms.
